The August Moon Festival is a signature event of Quincy's Asian community and the premier Asian cultural event on the South Shore. This year's festival will once again feature performances by talented local artists, exhibits, crafts, food, children's and senior programming. We had over 10,000 attendees of the South Shore and more than a hundred of businesses and organizations join us at the festival last year, transforming the event into a prominent and signature celebration in the heart of Quincy Center on Hancock Street.

As a strong supporter of Quincy's Asian community, I invite you to support the festival again as a returning sponsor. Your support will send a powerful message about the commitment of your organization towards the Asian community. The event will garner significant coverage in both the mainstream and Asian media and will be televised on Cable Access TV in Quincy and other cities of the South Shore. Please refer to the attached sheet to see how your sponsorship will be acknowledged.

Community organizations like yours have been very supportive of the work of Quincy Asian Resources and this is a time where our work is more critical than ever. Funds raised through the August Moon Festival make many valuable programs possible: our Summer Youth Employment Program for young adults who have Limited English Proficiency, and Discovering Unique Careers, a youth leadership program that organizes workshops to educate youth on such topics as financial aid for higher education and career choices.

The deadline for Grand Sponsors and Diamond Sponsors to confirm in order to be included on printed materials is July 14.

Thank you for your kind consideration. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at (617) 472-2200.

Sincerely,

John Brothers
